THE LAST FIFTY YEARS: CATHOLICISM AND THE MODERN WORLD

This four-week course will provide students with an historical overview of modern Catholicism from the Second Vatican Council to the present. In the course, students will explore various moral, ecumenical, liturgical, political, and social challenges confronting the church. In addition, students will also discuss Pope Francis' attempts at reforming the church during the past few years. This is an introductory course and no prior knowledge of the history of Catholicism required. There are no textbooks required for the course. Students who successfully complete the course will receive a certificate of achievement signed by the instructor and principal.
